

Handled - pricing & pay split by service (after the +5% change)

Generated 2026-10-09_0241 UTC directly from the pricing engine the website and app use - every number below is what a customer is charged and a pro is paid today. For review: is each price right?

How every booking is split

Rule	What happens
Booking fee	$4 on every booking of $20+, paid by the customer, kept by Handled (not shared, never discounted).
Commission (Handled's cut of the service price)	Slides with job size: 20.0% on jobs up to $60, rising evenly to 37.0% on jobs $600+. Small jobs keep pros happy; big jobs carry more.
Limits	Handled's total share (fee + commission) is always between 15.0% and 40.0% of the price. Some equipment-heavy services are capped lower (e.g. water heaters 15%).
Pro pay	Service price minus commission, rounded DOWN to the dollar. Pro+ pros earn +3% of the price, Elite +5% (Handled always keeps at least 15%).
Card processing	Stripe 2.9% + $0.30 per payment comes out of Handled's share (shown as 'Handled net').

What changed: Handled +5 points, paid by customers

Example booking - House & Office Cleaning

A typical one-time clean booked on the website (the calculator's default job: 1,800 sq ft home, 2 bathrooms, 3 bedrooms).

What the customer sees	Amount	Where the money goes	Amount	% of price
1,800 sq ft	$163	Booking fee (to Handled)	$4	1.9%
1 extra bathroom	$27	Service price	$206
1 extra bedroom/office	$16	Commission on service (24.8%, to Handled)	$51	24.3%
Booking fee	$4	PRO IS PAID (rounded down)	$155	73.8%
Customer pays (upfront)	$210	HANDLED KEEPS (fee + commission)	$55	26.2%
		Card processing (Stripe)	-$6.39	3.0%

Pro+	$161	76.7%	$49	23.3%

Per visit, customer pays	Pro is paid	Pro %	Handled keeps	Handled %	Handled net

Plan discounts come out of the price before the split, so pro pay drops with the price; the $4 booking fee is never discounted.

Every service - typical job

Typical job = the booking calculator's default answers for that service (what a middle-of-the-road order costs). Pro $/hr uses the engine's time estimate; services marked M include materials, equipment, vehicles or disposal the pro pays for, so their $/hr is not pure labor. SV = firm price after a free site visit (shown here at the calculator baseline).

What to check - is the pricing right?

1. Pro pay may be too low (under $30/hour of estimated work, before the pro's gas and costs)

Pros may pass on these offers. Consider raising the price or the minimum, or checking the time estimate.

Service	Typical price	Pro gets	Est. hours	Pro $/hr
Medical Deliveries	$35	$24	1.4	$17.14
Errands & Pickups	$61	$45	1.8	$25
Same-Day Courier	$42	$29	1.1	$26.36
Security Guards & Patrol	$312	$223	8	$27.88
Dog Walking	$148	$111	3.8	$29.21

2. Pro pay is very high per hour (over $150/hour) with no materials flagged

None - every high $/hour service includes materials, equipment or disposal.

3. Handled's share by job size

9 services have a typical job under $100; on those Handled keeps about 26.5% on average, and after card fees roughly $15.03 per job. Small jobs are where the business is thinnest - recurring plans, Handled Plus and add-ons help.

4. How to change a price

Each service's price formula and minimum live in packages/core/src/services.ts; the split rules in packages/core/src/pricing.ts. Prices also adjust automatically by area from what pros accept (Hub -> Market pricing), and Hub -> Pricing accuracy flags services that look mispriced once real jobs come in. Tell me which services to raise or lower and by how much, and I'll change them and regenerate this report.
