

Here is a cover letter template designed to be sent to hiring managers or business owners who have posted jobs on Indeed for cleaners, handymen, or maintenance staff. It pitches your business as a dedicated B2B vendor and includes a clear cost-benefit analysis.

Subject: Regarding your Indeed posting for [Job Title] – A more cost-effective vendor solution
Dear Hiring Manager,

I saw your recent job posting on Indeed for a [Job Title] in the Detroit area. I know that finding reliable, high-quality staff for property maintenance and turnovers is a constant challenge. Instead of taking on the overhead, taxes, and liability of hiring a new W-2 employee, I am writing to propose a more efficient B2B partnership with [Your Company Name].

We operate an on-demand local marketplace that pairs physical labor directly with vetted local workers in real time. Through our platform, we act as one app for everything your business needs, including cleaning, repairs, and lawn care.

Here is a brief cost-benefit analysis of using our platform versus hiring an in-house employee:

The Traditional Employee Model:

- Hidden Costs: Beyond the hourly wage, you pay for payroll taxes, workers' compensation, insurance, and benefits.
- Wasted Downtime: You pay for a full shift even when there are gaps between cleanouts or repair tickets.
- Management Burden: You have to handle recruiting, interviewing, training, and managing HR liabilities.

The [Your Company Name] B2B Solution:

- Pay Only for What You Need: You simply use our 60-second booking to reserve assistance instantly online.
- Budget Certainty: We provide an upfront, all-in price. You get your real price in about a minute, with no callbacks or surprise invoices. We guarantee upfront flat rates with no surprise stair or fuel surcharges.
- Commercial Perks: As one of our B2B contract partners, your business will receive dedicated account dispatch, Net-30 invoicing, and priority routing. You also receive GPS live tracking for real-time arrival updates.

Risk-Free Quality Control We take the risk out of property maintenance. Every professional on our platform is ID and background-checked, licensed where required, and rated on every job. Furthermore, we stand behind a make-it-right guarantee. If the job is not right, we provide a free redo or your money back within 30 days.

Whether you need rapid tenant turnover cleanouts, abandoned item removal, and unit prep, or recurring home maintenance, we have the vetted crews ready to deploy.

I would love to offer you a discounted rate on your first service request so you can test our platform with zero risk. Do you have 5 minutes this week for a brief introductory call?

Best regards,
